Double Patenting

17. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

18. Claims 1-15,18-57,59-93 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-58 of co pending Application No. 09/938,866, filed on 8/24/2001, claims 1-42 of application 10/116,932 filed on 4/5/2002, claims 1-37 of application 10/117,514 filed on 4/5/2002, 1-51 of application 10/387,002 filed on 3/12/2003, 1-42 of application 10/387,005 filed on 3/12/2003 .

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending applications and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending applications since the referenced copending applications and the instant applications are claiming similar, common subject matter. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because in the present application Independent Claims 1,59-60,80,93 are directed to data processing system setting means for setting a condition for web page...data acquisition means for acquiring web page data; determination means for determining whether the acquired web page data....indexing means for assigning a predetermined index to web page data....saving means for saving the web page data....[claim 1,59-60,93], extracting data within a predetermined meta tag ...displaying, when the retrieved web page.... [claim 80] ; while co-pending Application No. 09/938,866, independent Claims 1,24 are directed to a data processing apparatus comprising means for initiating saving....saving one of either an internet page content displayed ....URL of the page; means for acquiring....initiating saving;, means for indexing.....predetermined index to data....means for data saving acquired data....predetermined storage unit.

Co-pending application no. 10/116,932 independent claims 1,34-42 directed to information processing system ....receiving means for receiving information....internet; transmission mens....client terminals, ...server information.....display means for displaying.....

Co-pending application no. 10/117,514 independent claims 1,19,37 directed to information processing....information obtaining means for obtaining information; template selection means.....extraction means for extracting data....saving means for saving data.....

Co-pending application no. 10/387,002 independent claims 1,36,43,46-47,50-51 directed to information processing method ....obtaining a processing instruction from a displayed web page, transferring the .....processing instruction.

Co-pending application no. 10/387,005 independent claims 1,27,38-42 directed to a data processing method comprising...obtaining data displayed by a browser, importing data without displaying the data, storing and managing the obtained data.....

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of data processing at the time the invention was made to modify the cited steps as indicated copending 09/938,866, independent Claims 1,24 , application 10/116,932 independent claims 1,34-42, 10/117,514 independent claims 1,19,37, 10/387,002 independent claims 1,36,43,46-47,50-51, 10/387,005 independent claims 1,27,38-42, since the omission and addition of the cited limitations would have not changed the process according to which the data processing web page related data, particularly would perform the same function of managing web page related data . In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 184 (CCPA 1963). Accordingly, the instant Claims are broad and within the scope of the Claims of copending applications.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

19. Claims 1-4,6-10,12-15,18-21,26-50,52-57,59-64,66-67,69,71-73,75-76,93, 97,99, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Debbie Pinard et al. [hereafter Debbie], GB 2324896 published on Nov 1998 in view of Walls et al. [hereafter Walls], US Patent No. 5848410 published on Dec 8, 1998.

20. As to Claims 1,50, 59-60,93, Debbie teaches a system which including 'setting means for setting a condition for web page data to be saved, in advance of acquiring the web page data' [page 2, line 36-38, page 6, line 34-38], Debbie teaches web pages are generated and saved as web page template in advance as detailed in page 2, line 36-38

'data acquisition means for acquiring web page data' [page 3, line 3-4,page 10, line 18-24], acquiring web page data' corresponds to Debbie's template file information;

'dynamically assigned to the web page data' [page 12, line 25-29]

'saving means for saving the requested web page data' [page 11, line 25-27], saving the requested web page data corresponds to saving template information including parent web page data or HTML saved on the server element 120 as detailed in page 11, line 25-27; 'storage unit if the condition is determined to be satisfied, the saved web page data being sufficient to regenerate at least a portio of the web page' [page 11, line 4-6, page 12, line 20-24]

It is however, noted that Debbie does not specifically teach "keyword extraction means, indexing means". On the other hand, Walls disclosed 'keyword extraction means' [col 8, line 38-42], keywords corresponds to fig 2, element 224; indexing means' [col 8, line 32-35], indexing corresponds to Walls' fig 2, element 238

It would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to incorporate the teachings of Walls et al. into web page generator for organizational directory of Debbie et al. because both Debbie and Walls are specifically directed to generating and accessing web page [Walls: Abstract; Debbie: Abstract], particularly, Walls specifically teaches index generator of the index builder formats the stored search elements in the HTML format [Walls: col 5, line 44-52], while Debbie specifically teaches web page generator and displaying web page directory and regeneration of parent web page [page 11, line 4-6, page 12, line 20-24].

one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to incorporate the teachings of Walls et al. into web page generator for organizational directory of Debbie et al. because that would have allowed users of Debbie to index-organizing HTML data including keyword index that identifies not only elements or keywords, but also specific location for example header information, bringing the advantages of user to specify a search character or string of such characters, such as search word, and be presented with a search report in HTML format that indicates which of the files in the file system have an index-organizing element that contains the search characters as suggested by Walls [page 5, line 52-57].

21. As to Claim 2, Debbie teaches a system which including 'acquisition means acquires data from a browser client, said browser client allowing browsing of data in an Internet' [page 6, line 34-39, page 7, line 1-2]].

23. As to claim 4, Walls disclosed 'sorting means for sorting indices of the data in the storage unit' [col 7, line 8-12];

'display means for displaying a result of the sorting by said sorting means' [col 6, line 58-63].

'retrieval means for retrieving data corresponding to the index selected by said selecting means from the database' [col 6, line 44-50].

25. As to claim 7, 67, Walls disclosed 'deleting means for deleting at least one index from the indices displayed on said display means' [col 3, line 52-55, col 4, line 58-60, col 5, line 7-8];

Response to Arguments

96. Applicant's arguments filed on 5/11/2006 and 3/27/2006 with respect to pending claims 1-4,6-10,12-15,18-21,26-50,52-57,59-64,66-67,69,71-73,75-85,87,92-94,96-97,99 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive, for examiner's response, see discussion below:

97. In view of applicant's submitted amendment [5/11/2006, 3/27/2006], claims 1-4,6-10,12-15,18-21,26-50,52-57,59-64,66-67,69,71-73,75-76,93, 97,99, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Debbie Pinard et al, GB 2324896 in view of Walls et al, US Patent No. 5848410.

a) At page 25, claim 80, applicant argues that "Singhal is silent as to any extracting of data within a predetermined meta tag from a web page retrieved by a browser, and is also silent as to the display of the web page and the display of the extracted data in an area outside the display area of the web page".

As to the argument [a] above, firstly, Singhal is directed to searching distributed networks, more specifically meta-search engine that searches information from multiple search engines [see Abstract], secondly, Singhal specifically teaches meta data related to various web pages are being extracted and stored in a memory for example listing of titles, search terms, and related search queries and like [col 4, line 48-53], thirdly, Singhal specifically suggests displaying web pages for example is part of the prior art as detailed in fig 1-2, furthermore, Singhal also suggests specific ports of the information may be searched and outputted for example when user enters specific search query, use may select particular portions and display to the users as detailed in col 7, line 11-30.

As best understood by the examiner, Singhal specifically suggested displaying multiple search engine web pages fthat including specific search information describing "extracted data" for example as detailed in fig 2, therefore, displaying operation is integral part of Singhal's teaching.
